

Issue 8 – Term 3, 2016

From the Principal

A major focus for the school up until the end of this term is the final days of compulsory schooling for our Year 12 students. Although the ATAR students will return for a short time next term, Friday 23 September is the last time the entire group will be together.

Their last day will be celebrated with a breakfast and a farewell assembly in the Amphitheatre (weather permitting). Parents of Year 12 students are all invited to this special assembly which will include the 'handing over' of the Prefect jackets to the 2017 Prefect group. The assembly will commence at approximately 9:00am and the Year 12s will be dismissed for the day at the conclusion of the assembly.

ATAR students are completing examinations during the second week of the vacation period. I wish all those students the very best for these examinations and the external WACE examinations that follow.

While the school plans for the exit of our current Year 12 group we are also taking enrolments for next year's Year 7 group. Any parent who has a child who is eligible to attend Bunbury SHS should have returned the enrolment package, which is the documentation that secures a place in the 2017 Year 7 cohort.

Finally, I wish all staff, students and their families a safe mid-semester vacation.
